

Designing “Pro-Poor” Rewards for Ecosystem Services

Day 1: Monday, April 7

MORNING SESSION: ROOM 309

8:30 Opening

- Dr. Lisa Naughton (LTC Director, UW-Madison)

8:40 KEYNOTE OPENING ADDRESS: Incentive-Compatible Institutional Design: Who’s in Charge Here?

- Dr. Daniel Bromley (Anderson-Bascom Professor of Applied Economics, UW-Madison)

9:15 Monitoring and Modeling Ecosystem Services on Regional and Global Scales

- Dr. Jonathan Foley (Center for Sustainability and the Global Environment, UW-Madison)

9:45 The State of Markets for Ecosystem Payments

- Michael Jenkins (Forest Trends)

10:15 BREAK

10:30 A View from Sub-Saharan Africa

- Dr. James Murombedzi (Liberia Land Rights and Community Forestry Programme)

11:15 Targeting the Poorest Communities for Hydrological PES in Mexico

- Dr. Carlos Muñoz (Instituto Nacional de Ecología, Mexico)

12:00 LUNCH for registered forum participants: Pyle AT&T Lounge, room 106

BREAKOUT SESSIONS 1

1:00-2:30

Room 226: Assessing and Monitoring Ecosystem Services

- Holly Gibbs, leader (Center for Sustainability and the Global Environment, UW-Madison)

Tracking the Fate of Deforested Land in the Tropics: Critical New Inputs for Ecosystem Service Evaluation

- Holly Gibbs (SAGE)

Monitoring Human Impacts and Ecosystem Function in Africa’s Eastern Arc Forests

- Dr. Rob Marchant (University of York)

Targeting PES: Opportunities for bundling biodiversity conservation carbon and water services in Madagascar

- Kelly Wendland (Agricultural and Applied Economics, UW-Madison)

Dr. Lisa Curran (Yale University), discussant

Room 309: PES for Poverty Alleviation

- Dr. Brad Barham, leader (Agricultural and Applied Economics, UW-Madison)

Economic Development, Watershed Degradation, and Ameliorative Policies in SE Asia

- Dr. Ian Coxhead (Agricultural and Applied Economics, UW-Madison)

Directing Local Tax Revenues and Specialized Brand Marketing into Pro-poor Payments for Biodiversity Conservation

- Ann Koontz, MBA (Enterprise Works/VITA)

A view from Madagascar

- Tendro Ramaharitra (University of California-Berkeley)

Dr. Steven Lawry (Harvard University), discussant

Room 205: Lessons from the US Experience

- Dr. Harvey M. Jacobs, leader (Urban and Regional Planning, UW-Madison)

Using Voluntary Incentives to Conserve Biodiversity—Lessons from US Case Studies

- Dr. David Lewis (Agricultural and Applied Economics, UW-Madison)

Targeting Ecosystem Services: Using Interdisciplinary Science to Enhance Effectiveness

- Dr. Pete Nowak (Nelson Institute, UW-Madison)

Day 1: Monday, April 7 (continued)

BREAKOUT SESSIONS 2

2:30-4:00

Room 309: Compensation and Other Incentives for Wildlife Conservation

- Dr. Adrian Treves (Nelson Institute, UW-Madison) and Dr. Paula Kahumbu (Wildlife Direct), co-leaders

Conserving Snow Leopards through Community-based Incentive Programs

- Dr. Tom McCarthy (Snow Leopard Trust)

Direct Payments for Conservation: Examples and Challenges from Cambodia

- Dr. Tom Clements (Wildlife Conservation Society)

Reflections on Kenya’s Experience with Incentive-based Wildlife Conservation

- Dr. Paula Kahumbu (Wildlife Direct)
Dr. Pete Coppolillo (Wildlife Conservation Society-Tanzania) and Leela Hazzah (Nelson Institute, UW-Madison), discussants

Room 226: PES Amid Uncertain or Collective Land Tenure

- Dr. Lisa Naughton, leader
(Land Tenure Center, UW-Madison)

Property Rights, Collective Action, and RES

- Dr. John Kerr (Michigan State University)

Rewarding Indigenous Communities for Forest Conservation on Communal Land

- Luis Suarez (Conservation International-Ecuador)

Conditional Land Tenure in Watershed Protection Forest in Sumatra

- Suyanto (World Agroforestry Center)
Dr. Matthew Turner (Geography, UW-Madison), discussant

AFTERNOON SESSION (NOTE: these events occur in Science Hall, 550 N. Park Street)

4:30 KEYNOTE/WESTON LECTURE: From Timber to Palm Oil: Effects of Bornean Land Use Change on Carbon Emissions, Rural Livelihoods and Biodiversity, 180 Science Hall

- Dr. Lisa Curran (Yale University)

5:30 RECEPTION, 175 Science Hall

DAY 2: TUESDAY, APRIL 8

MORNING SESSION: ROOM 309

10:20 Conservation International’s RES Work, and Examples of Efforts to Visualize Ecosystem Services
Dr. Keith Alger (Center for Applied Biodiversity Science)

10:40-12 Panel: Priorities for Future Research and Action

Dr. Michael Colby (USAID), Dr. Malcolm Childress (World Bank), Dr. Oliver Coomes (McGill University),
Dr. Lisa Curran (Yale University), Holly Gibbs (SAGE, UW-Madison), Dr. Matthew Turner (Geography, UW-Madison)

NOON: FORUM CLOSSES

Please send us your comments and reflections on the forum online at <http://www.nelson.wisc.edu/ltc/springforum.htm>